

Using MobLab in MindTap

A Guide for Students

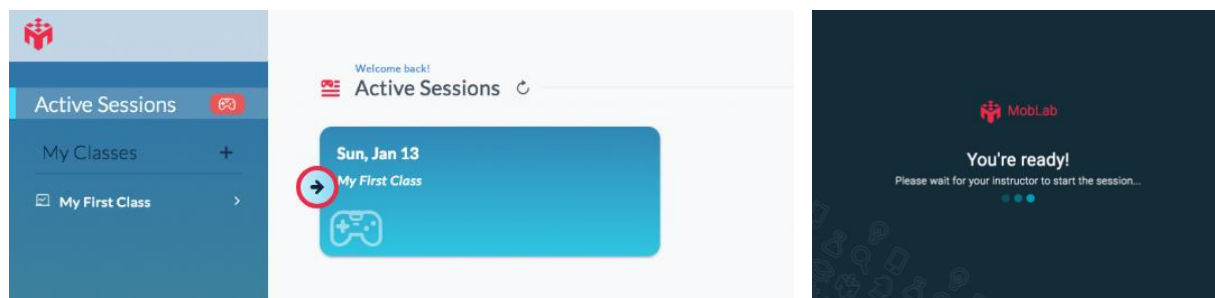

MobLab provides interactive experiments and games for learning about economics, business, and other social sciences. Here's how to participate in MobLab activities through MindTap:

Join an Activity

When instructed by your professor, click on the MobLab game title in your MindTap Learning Path. This will launch the MobLab app within MindTap and if the game has already been started, you'll be automatically entered into the game and randomly matched with other students.

If the game has not started yet, click on the Active Session card to launch into the game. You may see a waiting screen. Stay here and your screen will refresh automatically when the game starts.

What do I need to participate?

To participate in MobLab games you need an internet-connected device. Laptop users can use any major browser. iOS (iPhone and iPad) and Android users must use the MobLab app downloadable from the device's app store. Do not participate on a web browser on a mobile device.
